Dear Sir:

Before calculation of the application filing fee, please amend the application as follows:

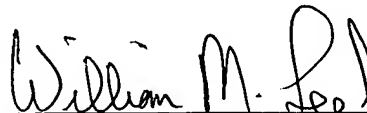

IN THE CLAIMS:

Amend Claim 21 as follows:

A1 21. A radio communications network comprising a plurality of user terminals each being a radio communications device as claimed in Claim 1 and wherein each of said antennas at those user terminals is arranged to provide a directional antenna beam and wherein at least some of those antenna beams are of substantially different pointing directions that the other antenna beams.
